

What is the best advice you ever received?

The best advice I ever received was to cut out the lights when I'm not using them.

Kayllen Lane, Kindergarten, Hilton Elementary School, Mrs. Edwards

The best advice I ever received was to hold the door for other people.

Joseph Solomon, Kindergarten, Hilton Elementary School, Mrs. Edwards

The best advice I have ever received is about how to wash your hands. It is important to wash your hands because you can get sick. It is also good to wash your hands because your hands will get dirty a lot. It is always good to wash your hands.

Joseph Arrington, 1st grade, Hilton Elementary School, Mrs. Light

The best advice I have ever received is raise your hand to talk. If you follow the rules you can move up for good manners. Also, you wouldn't get in trouble.

Sarah McClellan, 1st grade, Hilton Elementary School, Mrs. Light

The best advice I ever received was if you want to learn, you have to practice. You will never know how to do something if you never practice how to do it. If you never practice, you won't get better and better. For example, when you grow up if you want to ride your bike very well, you need to practice riding your bike and you will get better. That is why, if you want to learn you have to practice, was the best advice I had ever received.

Jude Athey, 2nd grade, Rock Springs Elementary School, Dr. Adler

The best advice I ever received was to not run in the house. My mommy said to not run around in the house so my dog Max wouldn't chase me. This would keep my dog Max from biting me. Also, Max won't start barking. This is the best advice I ever received.

Sophie Bishop, 2nd grade, Rock Springs Elementary School, Dr. Adler

The best advice I got was to catch with my hands and not with my body. That is advice from football. You better listen to advice.

Brady Davis, 2nd grade, Rock Springs Elementary School, Ms. Charlton

The best advice I've got was you can do it, when I was riding my bike without training wheels. I did it! It was outstanding! I can go really fast now! I love it so much! I can ride on the street, but my mom walks with me and my sister when we ride our bikes. I love this advice I got.

Marah Mabb, 2nd grade, Rock Springs Elementary School, Ms. Charlton

The best advice I ever got was when my dad told me to flick my wrist when I was shooting the basketball, instead of just throwing it up at the goal. I received this advice three years ago during a basketball practice in a gym at a school. That advice helped a lot. I made a lot more shots after my dad told me this. That was the best advice I have ever been given.

Jude Arnold, 4th grade, Miller Perry Elementary School, Ms. Jeffers

The best advice I have ever received is, think before you talk. My mom told me this about a year ago. This advice helped me because it taught me to think about what I say in case it is mean or hurtful. This is the best advice I have ever received because it has helped me a lot.

Brady Osborne, 4th grade, Miller Perry Elementary School, Ms. Jeffers

The best piece of advice I ever received is, be careful what you wish for because you just might get it. That's the best advice I ever received because it's true. The reason I know is because one time my older sister and I told our mom we wished we had a bunny, and then a few days later our friend, Colleen, gave us two bunnies. We were so happy, but then we realized bunnies are very hard to take care of. They do their business everywhere they walk, you have to clean their cages every day, comb them, feed them, and they stink. Now, most of the time I'm careful what I wish for.

Miranda Collier, 5th grade, Weber City Elementary School, Mrs. Webb

The best advice I have ever received is to treat others the way you want to be treated. It is very important to treat others the way you want to be treated because you are not the only one around with feelings. An example of treating others the way you want to be treated is, once I was in the store with my mom and I saw someone who looked different than me, so I started to stare but after a few seconds I realized that I would not like it if someone started to stare at the scar on my forehead. Treating people the way you want to be treated is very important, and I hope you learned a thing or two.

Leah Gagliardi, 5th grade, Weber City Elementary School, Mrs. Webb

The best advice I have ever received is not to listen to things that people say about me. My mother and father told me not to listen to nasty things that people say because everybody has their own problems. I think it is the best advice, because if my family did not tell me not to listen to the rude things that people say then I would have my feelings hurt sometimes. Another reason I think that is the best advice is because there are bullies that make fun of people, and they take it out on other kids. That's the best advice I have ever received.

Ava Hensley, 5th grade, Elydale Elementary School, Mrs. Lisa/Mrs. Jones

The best advice I ever got was to stay in school. If you stay in school, then later on in the future you will do better in life. Also, if you stay in school you will have a better job so you can support your family. You can also have a great education. That is the best advice I ever got.

Brendan Cassidy, 6th grade, Weber City Elementary School, Mrs. Webb

The best advice I have ever received is, pretty is as pretty does. What it means is if you are pretty on the inside, you are always pretty on the outside. I was told this saying by my mom. Ever since I was little, she has always told me this. That's the best advice I have ever been told.

Bre'Anna Fields, 6th grade, Weber City Elementary School, Mrs. Sanders

The best advice I have ever received is to be yourself. In school, some people will judge you based on your looks and they will try to change you. I've learned not to listen to the people that will try to change you. Just be who you are and you will be fine. That is the best advice I have ever got.

Haven Weems, 6th grade, Weber City Elementary School, Mrs. Sanders

The best advice that I've received is to try your hardest in what you do. In the future, it will pay off. If you don't, then you won't reach your goals. It's important to try so you can succeed in life. The best way to succeed is to just listen and do as you are asked.

A.J. Barker, 7th grade, Powell Valley Middle School, Ms. Johnson

The best advice I have ever received was from my Aunt Connie. She told me no matter what, you should always be kind and spend time with the people you love. She told me this because I always used to take them for granted. I thought about it for a long time and it eventually dawned on me why she told me that. It was some of the best advice ever, because it made me realize they're not going to be here forever. I would regret not spending time with them when they are no longer here.

Haley Zirkle, 7th grade, Powell Valley Middle School, Ms. Johnson

"There is no elevator to success. You have to take the stairs." - unknown. I believe that the best advice I have ever received was to always strive for success. I have followed this advice throughout my school career and will continue through high school, even life in general. Gaining success can open the many doors to opportunity. One main reason I strive for success is that I can further my education in various ways. This is the best advice I have ever received. "Success is not final, failure is not fatal: it is the courage to continue that counts" - Winston Churchill

Cordell Henry, 8th grade, Surgoinsville Middle School, Mrs. Hensley

The best advice I have ever received is to be myself no matter what others say. This advice has led me to make some of the best decisions in my life. Being myself brings more people like myself around. I enjoy all the things that being myself brings to me. It is surely the best advice I have ever received.

Cody Lane, 8th grade, Pennington Middle School, Mrs. Clark/Mrs. Edwards

Advice is always good. The best advice I've received is from a man who told me how to behave in class. Don't talk, pay no attention to your friends, always keep up, and stay on task. You want to make good grades in all your classes whether you completely understand the topic or not. The man also said research anything you need to know. Take notes, write any information down that's needed, and strive to do your best. That's the best advice I ever received.
