Being a hero means putting others above yourself and being kind and respectful. I admire first responders because they put their lives on the line every day to save the lives of victims in trouble or in need.

Cassidy Thomas, 7th, Jonesville Middle, Mrs. Brooks

A hero is someone who saves people. I think people in the army are heroes. They fight for our country.
Owen Lane, 1st, Hilton Elementary, Mrs. Light

To me a hero has numerous qualities and traits that make them a hero. They have to be brave and want to do the right thing, from helping someone out, to saving the world. For me, my hero was my Pappy. He would stand up for anyone whether he knew them or not. It seemed like every time I was with him, I felt safe. My Pappy showed bravery, courage, and numerous other qualities throughout his life and made me be able to understand what a hero is.

Nolan Amyx, 8th, Surgoinsville Middle, Mrs. Hensley

To me a hero means someone who never gives up. A hero is brave and courageous. You can be a hero too if you help elders. You can be loving, kind, daring, and be you. Stay friendly. Don't give up. You can be a hero and make a difference. You can stand up to bullies. You can give money to the poor. You can be generous. You can give people thank you cards. All in all, a hero has a big heart.

Chloe Jones, 2nd, Nickelsville Elementary, Mrs. Gilmer

Heroes are everywhere, not just in movies. Heroes don't have to have powers. A hero could be a firefighter, a doctor, or a teacher. The word hero has many different meanings. It could mean someone who saves your life or someone who just does something kind. I think everyone has a different point of view of what it means to be a hero. I think what it means to be a hero is to help someone in need.

Baylee Butina, 6th, Jonesville Middle, Mrs. Brown

Do you want to know my hero? My hero is Jessica Lady. I call her mom. She told me, "If you need to talk to me, I am right here and I will listen to you." My dog is also my hero. If I am upset she comes to help me. I am glad to tell you about my heroes. Heroes are helpful and cool!

Annabella Lady, 4th, Miller Perry Elementary, Ms. Jeffers

A hero is a person that can help others in many different ways. A person can become a hero by saving someone who is in danger. A hero can be anyone willing to go and help other people and not expecting anything in return. A hero is a person that is very well-liked. Some kids think heroes wear capes but really they're just normal people.

Zayne Reed, 5th, Shoemaker Elementary, Ms. Garrett

It means to help people.

Elijah Vermillion, Kindergarten, Hilton Elementary, Ms. Howe

A hero is someone that is brave and that is a hard worker. I think firemen are heroes because they save others from fires.

Olivia Bishop, 2nd, Rock Springs Elementary, Mrs. Charlton

What does it mean to be a hero?

I think what it means to be to be a hero is to be nice and kind. You should also help people and be respectful. It also means to be grateful, caring and loving. If you want to be a hero say something nice today.

Lacy Miles, 5th, Jonesville Middle, Mrs. Austin

To me a hero means someone who picks up trash. A hero is someone who helps workers. The animal shelter workers are heroes. They help find homes for animals.

Waylon Grizzle, 2nd, Nickelsville Elementary, Mrs. Gilmer

My hero is Daddy. He lets me watch TV. We also go to the barn together, go on walks together, and feed the donkey. That is what I think a hero is.

Amelia Arrington, 2nd, Hilton Elementary, Mrs. Edwards

What is a hero? Everyone is a hero! Some people think a hero is someone with superpowers. That is not what a hero is. A hero is someone who shows kindness and respect to others. That is not all a hero is. Also, someone who cooperates with others. For example, if you help a homeless person and give them food you are being a hero to that person that you helped. Just like I said before you and I are heroes. Even though we don't have superpowers it doesn't mean that we are not heroes. This is a saying I have always heard, "It's what's on the inside that counts." In a certain way we are all heroes. It might not be in the same way and we might not show it but on the inside we are heroes.

Kloey Harmon, 4th, Mount Carmel Elementary, Mrs. Morelock

A hero is someone like a firefighter or a police officer. These people save lives every day by putting out fires or catching criminals. Anyone can be a hero though. How? Well, you can start by picking up trash in your neighborhood. Simple things like this make a big difference in our world! If you want to donate to a hospital or a local animal shelter, that would make a difference too. This shows that anyone can be a hero.

Anna Claire Catron, 4th, Rogersville City School, Mrs. Sauceman

A hero doesn't have to have super powers and a cape. Firefighters are my heroes. They save people from fires. Police officers are also heroes. They don't just put people in jail. They help people in many other ways, too. For instance, they help people when they're lost, and they direct traffic, so no one gets hurt. A hero can even be your teacher. Without them you couldn't read this. Heroes can be anyone. You can be a hero, too.

Sophia Galvez, 4th, Rogersville City School, Mrs. Sauceman

You don't have to have special powers to be a hero. Captain America, Spider-Man, and Doctor Strange are some fictional heroes. They have superpowers and they are determined to save people. Javier Baez, DidiGregorious, and Aaron Judge don't have superpowers but they are heroes to me because they are dedicated, determined, and hardworking. Nana, Loren, and Dad are heroes to me because they are smart, determined, and dedicated. These are all heroes but all of them are different. Some have superpowers and some are people I look up to. Something they all have in common is they're all dedicated and hardworking. All of these are heroes no matter how different they are.

Caden Vermillion, 5th, Shoemaker Elementary, Ms. Garrett

It means to save people from fire and do good stuff. They also don't break stuff or put toys in their mouth.

Bravin Castle, Kindergarten, Hilton Elementary, Ms. Howe

When I think of a hero I think of a friend. Heroes are the kind of people that would help out. Once I helped someone in first grade to his class. My hero has always been my sister. My animal hero is my German shepherd. Lastly, my fictional hero is Spider-man and he is a hero because he saves people. That is what I think of heroes and who my heroes are.

Tanner Hunter, 4th, Miller Perry Elementary, Ms. Jeffers

A hero is someone who is brave and does cool stuff. I think my dad is a hero because he was brave to go and serve for our country.

Bodie Bellows, 2nd, Rock Springs Elementary, Mrs. Charlton

A hero is someone who saves people. I think a teacher is a good hero. Teachers help people read.

Caroline Ratliff, 1st, Hilton Elementary, Mrs. Light

To be a hero can mean many things. Whether you're in the military and you're saving lives, or if you're a doctor helping the sick. It could mean that you go to another country and help the hungry, or stay in your town and help the homeless. Anything you do to help another person makes you a hero, no matter how much you do.

Morgan Graham, 7th, Jonesville Middle, Mrs. Brooks

Being a hero means that you go above and beyond to help others. It is shown by acts of kindness and being brave for others' battles. What does a hero mean to you?

Kinsley Cassidy, 4th, Mount Carmel Elementary, Mrs. Tipton
