I would say my favorite musician is Olivia Rodrigo, because she is just such a good singer and puts her voice really into her music. It's so nice to listen to her sing on a walk or when trying to fall asleep or basically anywhere is a good place to listen to her. She would also probably have an amazing outfit for the concert. My favorite song is "Driver's License" because I just love the lyrics and how she sings.

I want to see JVKE at a concert. I would like to see him perform "Golden Hour" with thousands of other people seeing him as well. He was just a musician until he released "Golden Hour" then all the fame came to him. Then he started to make more songs and his mom helped him get the sound and beats. The song "My Lover Was a Snake" earned him his first platinum this year. And that's why I want to see him in concert.

I would love to go see Anne Wilson. She is an amazing Christian singer and her songs are very inspiring! One of my favorite songs of hers is probably "Strong". She talks about the Bible how there is "power in the words in red". I would love to go see her in concert, first row. In conclusion, she's my favorite because of how she talks about the Bible!

Ice Spice is my favorite musician because her music is so good. If I could, I would go to a concert, but it is too loud. She is really cool and awesome.

If I could see any band in a concert, I would definitely choose the Carter Family. I would choose this band because I love listening to their music. Another reason I would choose this band is because I know how to play a few of their songs on banjo. My final reason for choosing this band is because their music inspired me to learn how to play banjo. My favorite song they played is "Wildwood Flower".

You want to know why I picked "All I Want is You"? Because it's my FAVORITE song! And it might be the best song in the universe! The person who made this song is a singer. The person's name who sang the song is called Rebzyyx and he's the best! That is why I want to go to the concert.
