If I could visit any foreign country, I would visit Greece. Greece has beautiful beaches and crystal blue water. The sand looks like powdered sugar laying softly by the water. I would also like to see and explore the Colosseums. I think the best thing about Greece would be to go see the Mediterranean and involve myself in their culture.

My ideal foreign country to visit would be Ireland. I chose Ireland because it is a very rural country with many fields and barely any big cities and if you know me you would know that I enjoy nature more than a lot of huge factories and skyscrapers. I also would love to visit some of the many castles or castle ruins there, but the main reason I chose Ireland is how beautiful it is there! There are so many fields full of flowers and coastlines with AMAZING sunsets!

If you could go to a foreign country, where would you go? I like this country, but I would like to take a vacation to China. I could see black and white pandas. They are so soft and cute. I could walk the Great Wall of China. I can see houses with green roofs. I would love it there. That is which country I would visit.

One foreign country I would love to visit is the Bahamas. One reason I would love to visit the Bahamas is because of the weather. The weather down there is beautiful. The second reason I would visit is because of the water. The crystal-clear water is amazing; I would swim in it forever. The third reason is because of activities like hair braiding and going on a cruise. Lastly is because of the restaurants—the food looks delicious.

Which foreign country would you like to visit?

I would love to go to Dubai. It would be a great place to go and see. Dubai offers desert safaris, endless shopping sprees, and parties. Dubai is warm, welcoming, and quiet. Dubai will probably be very busy during the holidays. Lastly, Dubai is very pretty. It has amazing views. All in all, Dubai is a great place to visit and I would love to go there.

If I could go to any foreign country, it would be Japan. I have wanted to go for a few years now to see the countryside and because it's the birthplace of anime. My dad got me interested in anime when I was four or five. He let me watch Dragon Ball Z to fall asleep. Japan has always been interesting to me and now I have a chance to go. For my high school graduation, my family and I are going to see the outskirts of Japan. Plus, it would be cool to eat the original food instead of the American version.

Wow, Egypt is a very mysterious place. From pyramids to ancient language—it is all! Egypt has many good foods from stuffed vegetables, kosher dishes, and many more. But Egypt people have very different beliefs than you might have. They believe in different Gods not just one. Pyramids are huge—up to over 188 feet tall. We have no idea how they built the pyramids and it is one of the biggest mysteries of all time. So, after hearing about Egypt do you think Egypt is cool or do you think it is not for me?

If I could go to a foreign country, where would I go? I like this country, but I would like to take a vacation to Mexico. Mexican taco meat is the juiciest meat in the world. I want to taste tacos. I could see lots of lizards. I would wear sunscreen because it is hot and sunny. I will have a lot of fun in Mexico.

Pairlee Brooks, 2nd, Hilton Elementary, Mrs. Edwards

Personally, I would like to visit the UK or the United Kingdom, particularly because they speak English but also because my mother went to England! I also just want to see those double decker buses; they look so cool to me! Another reason I want to visit the UK is because of the weather. It is colder in Europe and I prefer colder weather. I would go to The UK with my cousin, Malory. She really likes tea and she also enjoys putting on a British accent. She would fit in perfectly with the English people.

Saxon Skidmore, 7th, Jonesville Middle, Mrs. Taylor

Bonjour! A foreign country I'd go to is France. First, I'd want to eat all the French bread I can. Next, I'd like to see the Eiffel Tower in Paris. Lastly, I'd stay in the fanciest hotel there. That is which foreign country I'd go to and what I'd do there.

Preston Baker, 4th, Miller Perry Elementary, Ms. Jeffers

I like this country, but I would like to take a vacation to Egypt. I could go to the great pyramids of Giza. I would ask to go inside the restricted area. There is a pharaoh's tomb I would like to see. Then I will go to King Tut's tomb in another pyramid. I hope the mummies don't get me.

I would like to go to Germany and see everything over there. I want to know about the culture over there. I also want a bunch of souvenirs where I can remember everywhere that I have been. I want to be just like one of my teachers, Mr. Giles. He is a history teacher and he travels everywhere.
